400 Perish When Mexico Flood Traps 350 at Prayers RECOVER 225 BODIES IN CHURCH

Worshippers Drowned As Walls Caved in By Surging Waters

MEXICO, D. F., Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—A daylight check of the flood-ravaged part of the federal district in the valley of Mexico revealed today that approximately 400 persons had perished, a majority of them dying as they prayed to San Pedro's patron saint—a saint to whom they annually voice their supplications for the benefits of rain.

Working by the light of flickering candles on the still gayly be decked altar of the San Pedro church, residents of the town dug out the bodies of 255 flood victims from under six feet of mud in the church, where it was estimated 350 died, trapped by the flood waters.

The total of 400, it was believed, was reached as others died in five affected towns in the area.

Firemen and policemen aided the villagers in removing the bodies, many of which were those of children, from the inside and the front of the church structure.

People Chant Dirges
Hundreds of humble Indians from towns nearby waited to identify relatives. As each mud-covered body was brought out the cries of the women could be heard as they stepped up to identify it. The roads were crowded with sorrowing people of the countryside. The people chanted religious dirges.

DEATH PLOT IS CHARGED

SAN BERNARDINO, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Earl Hall, 38-year-old water and power bureau employee, of Los Angeles, was in jail today, charged with sending his wife to near death in a 200-foot plunge down a cliff in their automobile.

Mrs. Edith Hall, lying in a hospital today, told police her husband swerved their car from the highway, pointing it down the incline, and leaped to safety as she rolled down the hill.

BONUS BATTLE IS DROPPED

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Bonus forces in congress decided today to abandon their battle for cash payment at this session and to concentrate on a campaign for the people for enactment of the Patman inflation-ary bill next session.

That will put the contest just before the presidential election.

A joint conference between house and senate leaders of the Patman bill forces agreed almost unanimously that President Roosevelt's opposition would require "too serious a sacrifice" to make a compromise possible at this session.

GIRL BETRAYED KIDNAPER Gave 'Tip' That Jailed Davis

ST. PAUL, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—A woman with whom he had been keeping company betrayed Volney Davis, Barker-Karpis gangster, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Davis' arrest in Chicago brought the federal government's score in the $200,000 abduction to nine in

Col. Lindbergh Withdraws From TWA Management

WILMINGTON, Del., Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Henry B. Du Pont, chairman of the board of Transcontinental Western Airlines, said today Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has withdrawn "for a time at least" from active part in TWA management as technical advisor.

Du Pont said Lindbergh's decision was "due to personal affairs and a desire on his part to be away from New York a great deal." The board chairman denied "politics" were involved.

BEACH LEASE BILL IS PUT THROUGH

Assembly Concurs in Amendments After Bitter Battle

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—The assembly today concurred in senate amendments to the Burns bill authorizing the state to lease its rich Huntington Beach tideland oil pool to the Standard Oil company on a 16-23 percent minimum royalty basis.

Earlier today the assembly plunged into another of its bitter fights over leasing of the field to private companies.

Approved earlier in the session by the lower house, the bill was returned to the assembly this morning by the senate, which had amended out the competitive bidding feature of the bill and asked the lower house to concur in the change.

QUAKE DEATH TOLL 56,000

QUETTA, India, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Official quarters estimated tonight that 56,000 persons throughout this region lost their lives in the earthquake of last Friday.

Prompt organization of rescue work was credited with keeping the total number of deaths from going above that figure.

Within two hours after the main shocks, 10,500 persons in Quetta alone were dug out of the debris alive.

GIRL ALLOWED $15,139 FOR LOST EYE

Judge Awards Damages in Tomato Case; 14 Boys Must Pay

The tomato hurling escapade indulged in two years ago by 21 junior college and high school youths of Fullerton, which resulted in the loss of a girl's eye, will cost 14 of the boys $15,139, according to the judgment of Superior Judge H. G. Ames, pronounced just before noon today.

The 21 youths had been sued for $20,400 by Miss Genevieve Johnston who lost the eye when the tomatoes hurled by the boys smashed the windshield of her automobile.

During the trial late yesterday, James L. Davis and George Holden, attorneys for Miss Johnston, asked dismissal of the suit against Robert Fahs who testified on behalf of Miss Johnston, and against Lawrence Meyers, Robert Forester, Thomas Payne, Gordon Jahr, John Doe Sherwood and John Doe Smith, who could not be located.

Students against whom the judgment was rendered were: Sam Miller, Arvard Smith, Kenneth Smith, Dick Nelson, Max Sherwood, Lloyd Sherwood, Felix Basabe, Odell Whitfield, Frank Gleason, Joseph Eastanchury, James Esmy, Thomas Berkeley, Jim Jewett, William Johnson, Vincent Jernigan, and Wilford Snyder.

Yesterday afternoon's hearing was replete with sensations and denials by youths of participation in the escapade which cost the Fullerton girl an eye.

MORATORIUM APPEAL DUE

LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—An early appeal to the state supreme court loomed today on the heels of a ruling by the district court of appeals here holding that California's trust deed moratorium law was unconstitutional.

The appellate court whacked down on the moratorium law, passed as an emergency measure by the legislature in 1933 for the benefit of hundreds of home owners and debtors, in a decision handed down yesterday.

The court said that the law "simply gives a debtor a preference without any consideration of the rights of the creditor and it cannot be sustained under the constitution."

NAVAL PARLEY OPENS TODAY

LONDON, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Anglo-German naval conversations from which may grow a new world conference for the limitation of sea armaments were formally launched today.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, opened the parley with a speech of welcome to Joachim Von Ribbentrop, the German armaments expert, and his colleagues. The meetings were private.

GEORGE WEYERHAEUSER RETURNS HOME

With a happy smile and a wave of his hand, 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser expressed his greeting to the world again at his home in Tacoma after his father, J. P. Weyerhaeuser, wealthy lumberman, bought him back by paying $200,000 in ransom money to kidnapers. The lad remarked that it was a lot of "fun" and said the kidnapers didn't hurt him because he was "worth too much." Meanwhile federal agents pushed a manhunt for his abductors. MERRIAM HOLDS BACK SIGNING BUDGET BILL

SACRAMENTO, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Governor Merriam returned to his desk at the capitol today but refused to sign the $376,000,000 budget bill which has been awaiting his approval since last Saturday.

In answer to queries as to when he will sign the measure, the governor replied cautiously: "Probably not today. Maybe tomorrow."

Obviously reluctant to give a full explanation of his reasons for delaying the signing ceremony, Governor Merriam finally admitted "several cuts may be made in the budget."

THE DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—One of the most consistent, though private champions of the New Deal in the past has been the sage of the supreme court, Louis D. Brandeis.

It was pretty well known months in advance, however, that he would side with the conservative justices of the supreme court in condemning the NRA.

In letting this be known, the justice violated no proprieties of the court. He has a great love of youth, is constantly surrounded by young men and women, talks frankly with them regarding their ideals, their struggles and the problems of the nation.

Long ago they knew that the famous justice felt that the NRA had gone much too far in attempt-

GAS CUT IN L. A.
LOS ANGELES. — Two major gasoline companies, Gilmore and Richfield, today reduced the price of third grade gasoline in Los Angeles to 14 1/2 cents from the 16 cents level that has been maintained under production agreements sponsored by the NRA. Independent gasoline stations have been selling below this level for the past week.

PENSION BILL LOSES
SACRAMENTO. — Senator Olson, Los Angeles, failed today in an attempt to have the senate finance committee send to the floor of the senate his old age security bill and the senator said he would attempt to get it out of committee by a vote of the senate. The bill would allow $50 a month to all persons who have reached the age of 65 and lived in the state five years.

TWO REFUSE TO LEAVE CITY HALL JOB

Charles Daigle, business agent for the steel workers union, today ordered two union men from Long Beach to leave the city hall construction job here, but the workers refused to budge, according to V. W. Houghton, resident engineer for the Public Works Administration.

The job is not a union job and it was for this reason that Mr. Daigle told the men to leave, Mr. Houghton said. The Long Beach men were brought in because the supply of qualified local men had been exhausted. The two workers in question had not been cleared by the union to work on the job, but had been cleared by the National Re-Employment Service, according to Mr. Houghton.

The city hall job was a subject of protest recently when local men said they could not secure jobs there.

Officers Check on $20 Bill Man Changes at Cafe Here

All Orange county deputy sheriffs today were instructed to arm themselves with rifles, and every police agency in the county tightened the net of the law as reports were telephoned in that men suspected of being the kidnapers of George Weyerhaeuser, 9, of Tacoma, had been seen in this county.

One of the men was seen late yesterday in the Green Cat cafe here with a $20 bill suspected of being kidnap money, while the other two were spotted in a car at the Kemp service station at Ocean avenue and Huntington Beach boulevard.

Sheriff Logan Jackson today broadcast a message over the county police radio, urging all law enforcement agencies in the county to be on the lookout for the fugitives who escaped in Washington with $200,000 in ransom bills paid for the release of the child.

ALL ON ALERT HERE

Police Chief Floyd W. Howard said he had instructed all his officers to be on the alert to apprehend the criminals, whose presence in Southern California also has been suspected at a number of other points.

Captain Henry Meehan of the California Highway Patrol today said that every man on his force had been told to be on the alert for the appearance of the kidnapers.

Sheriff Jackson said that it would take only a few minutes for the combined law enforcement units to completely block every avenue of entry or escape from this county. A recent test showed that such a blocking off move will make the county practically air tight against major criminals.

VERN BEGINS TO DOUBT

Saddened by the slow response of citizens in contributing to the final one-third of his $250 fund, Vern Carpenter, a deserving crippled youth whose 340 pounds prevented him from walking, was beginning to doubt today whether he would ever receive the wheelchair he has needed so long.

The semi-paralyzed Vern, who lives in a humble residence at 1325 West Second street, waited in hope the past two weeks while kind-hearted persons sent in donations amounting to $166.80. He felt a chair was just about certain.

Today the 24-year-old invalid was faced with keen disappointment because not a single contribution was received at The Journal office.

QUADRUPLETS REACH 20! Sisters Note Birthday Today

HOLLIS, Okla., June 4. (AP)—The famous "bunch of keys"—Hollis' quadruplet sisters—locked the door on their 'teens today.

For the first time in history, as far as is recorded, quadruplets are celebrating their 20th birthday.

There were four cakes bearing 20 candles each for the Keys sisters, Mona, Roberta, Mary and Leota, who were born to Mr. and Mrs. Flake Keys, June 4, 1915.

Their clothes are alike and they all play the saxophone.

There is no record in medical history that any other quadruplets or the offspring of higher multiple births, ever reached maturity.

Yet a space of 17 days covers the birthday anniversary of three multiple groups which have survived the tremendous odds against them. The four daughters of Carl A. Morlok, Lansing, Mich., celebrated their fifth birthday May 19, and the world paused in wonder at the first anniversary of the famous Dionne quintuplets May 28.

Strangely enough, all the groups are comprised entirely of girls.

SOCAL OIL COMPANY IN HUNTINGTON BEACH IS CLOSED DOWN

NO PLANS FOR RE-OPENING ARE MADE

McCallen Refining Co. Starts Gasoline Run Today, Says Head

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, June 4.—Closing down of the Socal Oil company, refiners and producers of Acme gasoline, was announced here this morning by Henry Tannenbaum, assistant secretary. No definite plans have been made for reopening, he said. In conjunction with this came the statement from M. M. McCallen, Santa Ana, owner of the McCallen Refining and Producing company, that his organization is starting a gasoline run today, with a production capacity of 1-200 barrels per day. The Socal company has been doing the McCallen refining on a smaller basis. Since the fall of the NRA codes, the McCallen company has been reconditioning its machinery for refining finished gasoline products. The machinery was installed last summer, but due to the federal control it was not put into operation. Tank wagon Orco gasoline will start flowing from the McCallen plant today.

MORE ABOUT FLOOD

The neighboring communities of Xochimilco, 12 miles from here; Milpa Alta, San Gregorio and San Pablo also suffered numerous casualties.

Torrential rains, starting at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, sent mountain streams roaring out of their courses into the villages below. Within two hours roads were impassable and fields became vast, surging lakes.

Church Walls Burst

Those who escaped from the San Pedro church said the swiftly rising water burst the walls of the structure and poured in on the worshippers before they were aware of the threat to their lives.

Later the building collapsed, burying the dead and dying beneath its debris.

Villagers interfered with the efforts of federal troops to extricate bodies from the ruins, threatening to attack the soldiers because they believed the disaster to be an act of vengeance sent from heaven.

Earlier in the day authorities had entered the church, halted the services and arrested the priest. The superstitious Indians insisted the floods were retribution for this interference with their worship.

STREAMS LASH NEW AREAS IN MIDWEST

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—Water burdened streams of Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri lashed into new lowland areas today to continue their widespread destruction.

In Northern Kansas, the Republican river was receding, but the Kaw was forcing families to flee as its muddy waters rolled eastward. The Missouri river—the Big Muddy—covered thousands of acres of farm land and crews of laborers struggled to maintain strategic levees along its 400-mile course between Kansas City and St. Louis. The death toll was not known. An Associated Press survey showed 94 unofficially listed as dead in Nebraska, but state Senator W. C. Bullard of that state estimated the total at 140.

CRAIG REMOVAL IS SOUGHT

friends had bombarded the Johnston car with tomatoes. Miss Sweetman was not cross-examined by defense attorneys. Another sensation during the afternoon was the charge of Richard Nelson that Mrs. Mable Fahs, mother of Robert Fahs, one of the defendants who later became a witness for Miss Johnston, had requested Don Tate, also a defendant, to testify that Fahs had taken no part in the tomato throwing.

Denies Was at Station

Joe Bastanchury, also accused of having taken part in the escape, denied on the witness stand that he had been taken to the Fullerton police station on the night of the alleged bombardment after Roy Mills, Fullerton police officer, had identified him as one of the 20 youths taken to the police station.

After the noon recess, James L. Davis and George Holden, attorneys for Miss Johnston, succeeded, over the protests of Elliott Keiser, attorney for the boys, in having the complaint amended to accuse the youths of malice in hurling the tomatoes. The amended complaint also included eggs and persimmons as weapons used in the attack.

CONTRACT FOR GRAVEL UP

Always a matter of controversy, the matter of renewing the county's contract with L. D. Reynolds for gravel used in repair work on county roads, faced the board of supervisors today. The contract expires June 12 and Mr. Reynolds, through his attorney, L. W. Blodgett, is seeking renewal, this time for a one-year contract instead of three years.

Because of controversy which arose over the proposal to renew the agreement, the matter was held over until the afternoon session of the board. In the meantime Nat H. Neff, county road engineer, was asked for recommendations.

John C. Mitchell, chairman of the board and supervisor from the second district, announced he opposed renewing the pact, and would favor competitive bidding.

Supervisor Willard Smith suggested as a compromise that the specifications for competitive bidding include the service being rendered by Mr. Reynolds, who has agreed to move his equipment to any pit in the county at any time and provide gravel for the district.

FATHERS, SONS DINE TONIGHT

More than 200 persons are expected to assemble tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the First Christian church to celebrate the annual Father and Son banquet.

The Rev. George Reeves of Oceanside, who recently came here from Connecticut, will be the principal speaker. H. C. Head, local attorney, will make the toast to the sons with response from Carl Allison. Toastmaster of the evening will be J. A. George.

Musical numbers will be presented by the young men's quartet composed of Nelson Rogers, Clinton Campbell, Dick Key and Jack Rummels. The Santa Ana Junior college trumpet quartet, under direction of Leland Auer, also will play.

Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the church, will introduce special guests of the evening.

Decorations are under supervision of a committee composed of Mrs. Edward Hagthorn, Mrs. Rudolph Weisgerber and Mrs. Frank Pierce. Edward Green is arranging for flowers and the dinner is being served under direction of Mrs. Ione Hanson, president of the Ladies' Aid.

While the United States increased its exports of bicycles 33 per cent in the last year, imports of bicycles during the same period advanced 80 per cent.

22 MILLIONS IN PROPERTY PUT ON TAX ROLL

Return of public utility and railroad property to the county tax rolls will boost Orange county's assessed valuation by about $22,063,565 this year, according to County Assessor James Sleeper, who said this added wealth will be of material benefit to the property owner. The state has turned down the idea of an ad valorem tax on property, so that its needed additional income must come from other sources, he explained. Public utility and railroad property, or operative property as it is called officially, will be assessed throughout the state on a 10 percent basis. This will necessitate the same basis of assessment for real and personal property. In Orange county the basis of assessment has been about one-third of actual value, but on the new basis it will be 50 percent.

This change will increase the assessed value of non-operative property to about $176,138,920, giving a total taxable amount of $198,200,485, Mr. Sleeper said.

with a dark complexion, dressed in a new dark suit, appeared at the Green Cat cafe here and asked to have a $20 bill changed. Mrs. James Detrixhe, one of the cafe proprietors, became suspicious after the man had departed. She reported the man's appearance to the sheriff's office, and turned over the serial number of the bill he had presented. The number was L 00817688 A.

This number falls within the upper and lower limits of the ransom bills paid for release of the Weyerhaeuser boy. Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean immediately checked the number with the bureau of investigation in the department of justice at Los Angeles. The report came back that, as far as that office knew, the local bill was not one of the ransom bills.

Still Vigilant

However, in view of the fact that the numbers of the bills fill practically a page of a newspaper, local authorities refused to relax their vigilance.

Yesterday morning, according to Captain Meehan of the highway patrol, the attendant at the Kemp service station phoned in a report that two suspicious men in a Ford V-8 coupe bearing a Washington license plate had stopped there for gasoline. Capt. Meehan immediately sent out patrolmen to comb the vicinity for the suspects.

Sheriff Jackson said the public can be of great assistance to officers by watching for the ransom bills. The complete list of serial numbers was received at the office of District Attorney S. B. Kaufman today, and was expected at the sheriff's office. The numbers can be checked at either office by anyone who has a suspicious bill. The ransom money was paid in $20, $10 and $5 denominations.

Nobody Will Lose

From Tacoma came word today in an Associated Press dispatch that "innocent bystanders" who happen to receive one of the 20,000 Weyerhaeuser kidnap ransom bank notes will be recompensed, according to a spokesman for the U. S. Department of Justice.

The operatives said that "nobody will lose their money. The department will take the bill and see that another is given, to replace it. We also want to emphasize the importance of remembering from whom the ransom bill was received."

It was reported here that when the $200,000 worth of ransom bills are recovered they will be destroyed, to avoid confusion by continued circulation of the advertised money. Other bills of different numbers would be issued to replace them.

Numbers Circularized

The serial numbers of the bills were circularized by the government yesterday as a means of finding the kidnapers, believed to be a northwest gang.

Meantime state patrolmen of Washington, mobilized last week by Governor Clarence D. Martin for the kidnap hunt, continued their highway blockade and were reported to have resumed the search for the car in which 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser was kept until restored to his parents.

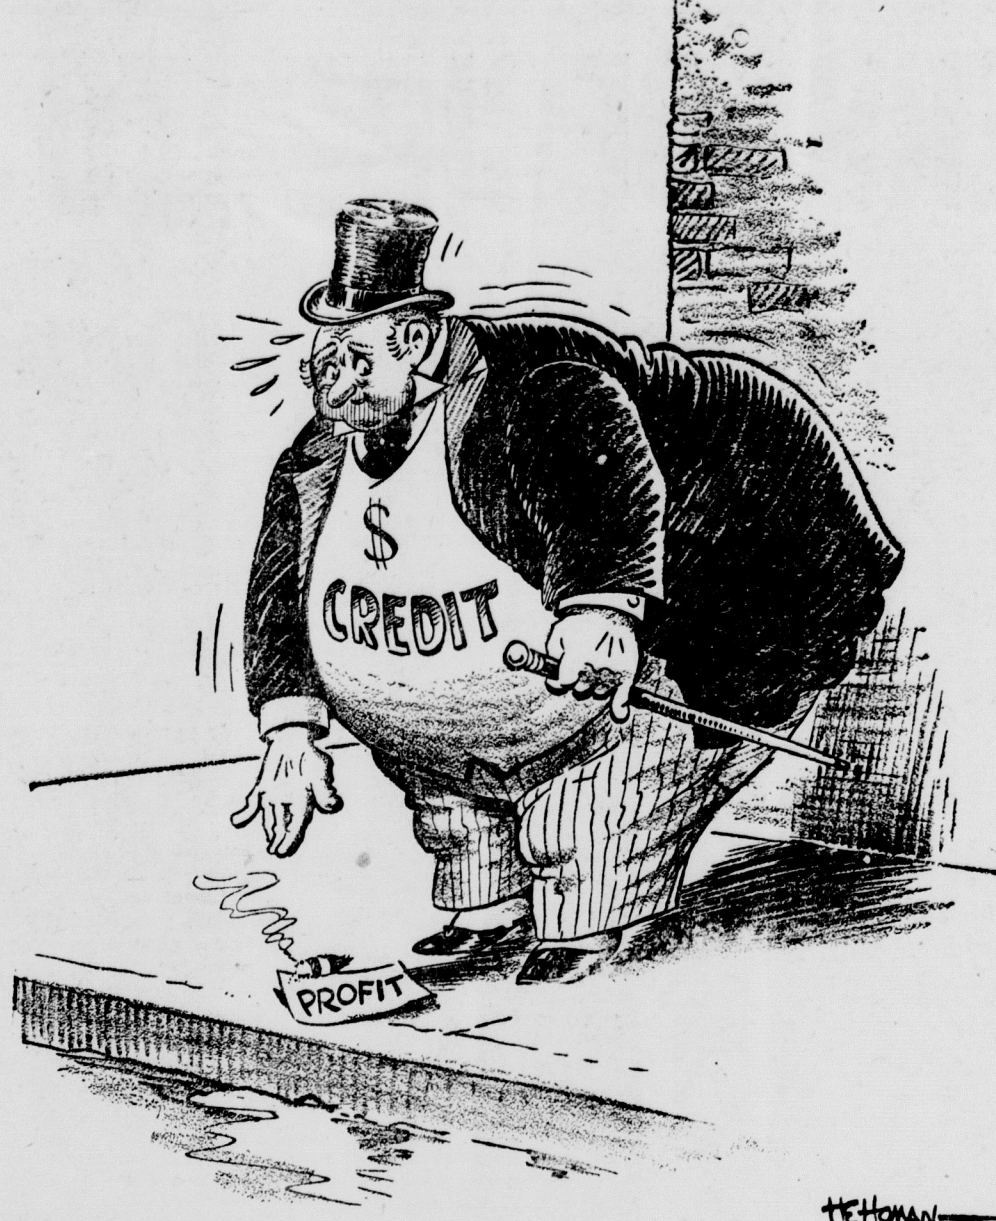

The patrol search was believed to center around Issaquah, about 12 miles east of Seattle, near where the kidnaped lad reappeared Saturday.

Authorities there refused to acknowledge that there was such a search.

UTILITIES TO FIGHT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Tuesday, June 4. (AP)—The administration was warned today that the nation's utility interests would fight to the finish what was called a "devastating and destructive attack" from the New Deal. The warning came from Thomas McCarter, president of the Edison Electric Institute, in a speech to more than 1200 members of the institute here for their annual convention.

strictly interstate commerce business. One possibility was that congress would be asked to define "interstate business."

The plans were to be made public at a special press conference late in the day.

Indications were that the immediate legislation would not necessarily be considered final; but that Mr. Roosevelt would possibly see a broadening of constitutional powers by the people to support the New Deal economic and social plans.

Not to Dismiss Workers

Emphasis was laid on the fact that the president had told Donald Richberg, NRA head, last night not to arrange for dismissal of all of the 5400 NRA employees on June 16, when funds would expire. The word "all" was emphasized, indicating a sharply restricted NRA to come within the limited definition laid down by the supreme court.

It was learned that a transfer of the NRA activities to the federal trade commission was not contemplated.

Instead of the legislative list being shortened because of the NRA situation, one leader—who asked not to have his name used—said in an interview that today's White House conferences had been decided upon to "show the country that we're not quitting."

New Legislation Program

As the congressional leader quoted, and other party chiefs, summarized the new legislative program, it still includes some sort of NRA replacement legislation, not yet decided upon; the utilities holding company, social security, omnibus banking, motorbus transportation, Tennessee Valley Authority expansion, "nuisance" tax extension and ship subsidy bills.

Of these, the house has passed social security and banking; the senate has approved transportation and the TVA, and is debating the utilities holding company bill.

It was predicted that the Wagner labor measure would be amended before passage so as to set up a national labor relations board with powers of voluntary arbitration for strike settlement; and that the section guaranteeing collective bargaining would be changed so as to apply only to interstate business in conformity with the court NRA decision. These changes, it was added, had been suggested by the president.

Legislative action toward acceptance by the state of the million dollar surplus left over from the Olympic Games of 1932 at Los Angeles was recorded today in the state assembly. The money was offered to the state in repayment for the million dollar bond issue voted by the people to finance the games.

SAFE AS YOUR BATHTUB

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, June 4.—"Beaches as safe as your bathtub" will be the motto of Huntington Beach and Newport Beach lifeguards chiefs, Bud Higgins and Frank Crocker, this summer if present preparations are any indication.

Pointing to their record of no drownings along a city-patrolled stretch for the last three or four years, the two leaders look forward to caring for the huge throngs during the summer months.

Each successive week-end during the past month has seen an increase of bathers, but Sunday's crowds nearly doubled any previous turnout. No mishaps were reported at either resort.

Examinations will be held June 8 to determine the personnel of the lifeguard staffs. Higgins' staff will vary from four to six men, and Crocker's from eight to 12.

Equipment of the latest type known will be in active use. The Huntington Beach corps has the most modern device for rescue work. It is a motorcycle with a sidecar carrying a stretcher, an inhalator, blankets, and first aid material, and has proved very effective in rush calls.

The Newport contingent has added 10 new "rescue cans," making a total of 29. They will be stationed along both the bay and ocean front at strategic positions. Six individual lifeguard towers will be set up on the beach. Three dories, two skiffs, two inhalators, and a resuscitator will be ready at a moment's notice.

Lifeguard station No. 1 at Huntington is a two-story building housing a refreshment stand, a regulation life saving boat, the motorcycle, lockers, shower and dressing room, and the glassed-in lookout tower. Binoculars are trained on the surf constantly. Outside the tower is a fireman's pole which enables the guard to slide from the second story to the ground in an instant. Two individual towers flank the headquarters.

"Doughnuts" or life savers are conveniently hung on the Newport, Balboa and Huntington Beach piers.

COUNTY FORUM CLUB PLANS PROGRAM

Announcement of the most versatile schedule of speakers yet offered by the Orange County Forum club was made today by Miss Clara Morley, director, for the 1935-36 season, to open October 15.

At the final meeting of the forum last March, results of a questionnaire revealed that practically the entire membership of more than 700 was satisfied with the programs of the two previous years, and signed for the 1935-36 season without even knowing who the speakers were to be.

"The Orange County Forum has come to be known as one of the most worthwhile activities of the county," Miss Morley said today. "We are very happy to be able to present such an outstanding program for the third season of the forum."

Fullerton Is Site

The speakers will be presented in the Fullerton High school auditorium as last year. Following is the schedule of programs:

March 17, Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of Chicago University, the youngest head of a university in America, who will speak on "The Rising Generation."

Speakers on last year's program included Lawrence Dennis, Lewis Browne, Dorothy Thompson, Thomas D. Campbell, Will Durant, and George E. Sokolsky.

ANTI-NOISE LAW CONSIDERED

As the result of a petition presented several weeks ago by residents, the city council last night heard the first reading of an ordinance prohibiting the use of loud speakers or any other noise-making devices attached to buildings or used by stores for advertising purposes.

Complaints concerning such advertising devices have been received by the council in the past, and the move last night was the first actual step toward their control.

The ordinance also provides for licensing sound trucks; the annual fee to be $48 per truck. In addition, a fee of $12 will be charged any person wishing to so advertise his own business if he already has a license under any other section of the ordinance. The vehicles must be kept in motion at all times during their broadcasts, the ordinance provides.

NEW MINTYRE BOOK IS DUE

Recollections of his early days in New York, intimate pictures of celebrities before they became well-known, sketches of New York from the Bowery to Park avenue, make up O. O. McIntyre's new book, entitled "The Big Town—New York Day by Day," which Dodd, Mead & Co. have just announced for publication on June 5.

Mr. McIntyre has divided the volume into four sections: Unframed Vignettes, Odd's Bodkins, Thoughts While Strolling, and Diary. The book represents the cream of the author's work, selected from his widely-read columns. Not since O. Henry set down his own impressions of "Little Old Bagdad in the Subway" has any inquiring eye caught so many facts and foibles of the great city as Odd McIntyre in this rambling commentary on the big town, which is now in book form for the tens of thousands of readers who have been clamoring for his best work in permanent form.

Speakers on last year's program included Lawrence Dennis, Lewis Browne, Dorothy Thompson, Thomas D. Campbell, Will Durant, and George E. Sokolsky.

"McKeechne and I got along like a couple of kids. He phoned me Sunday night and he was almost crying. 'Don't believe anything you see in the papers supposed to be from me,' he said. 'It's a lie.'"

"He asked me when I was leaving. He came down to see me off. He said he was sorry I was going, that he wished me all the luck in the world. What a guy he turned out to be."

There's only one thing the Babe would like now from the Braves. "I'd like to buy my uniform," he said. "I guess that's the last one."

FIRM OBSERVES 2ND CLEARANCE

Starting tomorrow, the Bell Dry Goods Company celebrates its second annual clearance, according to an announcement appearing on page 6 of this issue.

Strictly adhering to the store policy of offering to customers dependable merchandise, all well-known lines will be offered from the regular stock. It is not merchandise "bought for this special occasion," but includes such established and well-known lines as the "Cruise Mode" dresses, a very smart sports-wear line, and the "Louise Alcott" half-size dresses. Every department in the store is included in this second clearance.

In an interview Mr. Bell emphasizes the fact that the special prices made have nothing to do with recent supreme court decisions, as there is no disposition on the part of manufacturers to depart from the present price levels for good merchandise. In this connection it is well, he said, for the public to differentiate between reliable and desirable goods such as will be offered during this sale, and distress merchandise made under sweat shop conditions and held out as a bait to the public under the guise of "unusual bargains."

EVERY MEANS OF PUBLICIZING GARDEN TOUR BEING USED

The publicity committee of the chamber of commerce today was using every possible means of telling local residents about their opportunity of visiting Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Gardens in the Santa Ana canyon next Saturday. In order that the city may appreciate fully the privilege of having a special Santa Ana day at the plant and wild flower sanctuary, the message will be taken to every service club and to other organizations between now and Saturday.

Through the cooperation of School Superintendent Frank Henderson, bulletins will be distributed in the schools, informing students and teachers of the opportunity, the first of its kind since the gardens were established about seven years ago.

The committee met last night at the chamber offices, under the chairmanship of Edward M. Hall. It was announced that cards for admission to the gardens will be available at the chamber along with maps showing how to reach the spot. One card will be sufficient for each party or car.

The gardens, made possible through the generosity of Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant, who donated the 200 acres of land, are reached by going up the Santa Ana canyon to the Yorba bridge, where a left turn is made across the river. On the other side a right turn is made on the road which goes to the rancho.

40-HOUR WEEK, MINIMUM WAGES OBSERVED DESPITE NRA DEATH

SURVEY SHOWS EMPLOYERS LIKE CODES

Former Requirements Upheld; Pay Raised By Some Firms

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) CHICAGO, Tuesday, June 4.—The 40-hour week and minimum wages live on.

Eight days after the United States Supreme Court threw out the hour and wage provisions of the National Recovery Act, a survey by the Associated Press today showed that while in some instances code hours and pay were discarded, for the most part employers have not only continued the former NRA requirements but considered methods to restore their legality.

Some Raise Wages

In several states employers and employers associations gave assurance to employees and to President Roosevelt that they intended to continue on the Blue Eagle basis. Some went further and announced immediate increases in wages.

From the labor side came however, charges that increasing numbers of firms were abandoning the 40-hour week and minimum wages.

It was labor, also, that asserted through state and city leaders that the wage changes—both up and down had been made principally by the "small fellows."

Pledges of support of code hours and pay came from numerous varied fields of retail and wholesale trade and from manufacturers. Bakers in New England, dressmakers in Texas, a California wine producer, retailers in St. Joseph, Mo., and a dozen chambers of commerce have publicly announced the standards must not be lowered.

Leaders Work for Codes

Many leaders started working to retain the code provisions permanently. Henry I. Harriman, former president of the United States States Chamber of Commerce declared he "should be glad to see congress pass a revised NRA." In California, employers' associations rushed a new state recovery act to retain the code wages and hours.

Strikes of employees, directly traceable to the abandonment of the 40-hour week were reported at Des Moines, Cookeville, Tenn., and Lebanon, Pa.

PRECAUTION SAVES LIVES
Hints Given on Poison Sprays

Arrival of the spraying season for combating insect pests, coupled with the recent death of a local child after drinking concentrated spray material, has brought the question of precautionary measures for prevention of such accidents prominently into the minds of Orange county residents. Believing that the recent tragic but accidental death of two-year-old Lee Ann Schildmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schildmeyer, of Grand avenue, may serve to help others to avoid similar tragedies, The Journal has gathered facts about Black Leaf 40, which the little girl drank, as well as other substances commonly used in field or orchard spraying. A lasting memorial to little Lee Ann would be the knowledge that other lives may be saved through avoiding the circumstances which caused her death.

Powerful Poison

Black Leaf 40, or nicotine sulphate, is one of the most powerful and quick-acting poisons known, when in its concentrated form. When used for spraying citrus trees or ornamental plants it is diluted in the ratio of one pint to 100 gallons of water, according to Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs. For walnut trees the ratio is one-third to one-half pint in 100 gallons of water.

In the diluted form it is not regarded as particularly dangerous. But the dregs of liquid which Lee Ann drank from a bottle found in a trash box, on May 25, was the concentrated substance.

The best antidote for such a poison, according to Mr. Tubbs, is to call a physician and let him administer treatment. Instructions issued to all field workers of Mr. Tubbs' office who handle chemicals, advise drinking warm water freely as an antidote. Other suggestions include the use of an emetic of mustard to produce vomiting, use of strong tea or coffee, or spirits of ammonia aromatic, one teaspoonful in a glass of water.

Other Treatments

Other treatment used, which requires attendance of a physician, includes emptying of the stomach with a stomach tube, and the giving of one-thirtieth of a grain of strychnine by hypo every hour until four doses are taken. The lower extremities and chest should be kept warm.

One of the most important precautions, Mr. Tubbs pointed out, is to keep all poisons out of reach of children at all times. This is one of the instructions issued to field workers on the staff of the agricultural commissioner's office. Black Leaf 40, or nicotine sulphate, is not the only dangerous substance used in pest control, he explained. There also are the arsenicals, cyanide used in fumigating, basic arsenate of lead and other arsenates used in spraying vegetables and fruit. Most of these materials are used by commercial sprayers or fumigators, who understand the necessity of keeping them out of reach of children.

The injurious nature of poisons used in pest control has been recognized by the federal government in setting limits on the residue that will be tolerated on fruits and vegetables.

CHAMBER ACTS TO ENCOURAGE SIGHT-SEEING

Orange county today is definitely taking hold of the idea that this section should do everything possible to present its advantages to tourists who pass through on their way to and from the San Diego exposition.

Last night the publicity committee of the chamber of commerce made plans to induce visitors to see the places of interest in the county. Two spots which tourists will be invited to see are Newport harbor and San Juan Capistrano mission. Travel bureaus at Los Angeles will be contacted by committee members with a view to having them route their tours so their passengers can see such attractions in this section.

Plan Stage Routings

Few newcomers have seen an orange packing house in operation, and the committee hopes to make it possible for visitors to go through some of these plants. An attempt also will be made to have Greyhound stages route some of their cars through the interior of the county.

Edward M. Hall, chairman of the committee, and also a polo enthusiast told the group that a local polo team will play at San Diego on June 13, and that it might secure an engagement for Orange county day, June 20.

Proposes Invitations

Howard I. Wood, chamber secretary, suggested the advantage of inviting famous visitors at the exposition to come to Orange county.

He also reported that at a recent meeting of Rotary club leaders plans were discussed for co-operating in the movement for showing Orange county to tourists.

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county at its next meeting, June 25, in Costa Mesa, will offer its services in promoting the project.

Senator Simeon D. Fess, then chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, secretly asked McCarl to become secretary of his organization.

McCarl informed Norris of the offer and expressed a desire to take it. He pointed out that Fess, Jim Watson and Harry New, later postmaster general in Harding's cabinet, had assured him it would open the way to future advancement.

Norris was facing the political battle of his life that year. He had voted against the war; and both democrats and republicans were out to get him. He believed himself doomed to defeat, but, characteristically, he was determined to go down fighting. Therefore, McCarl's statement that he wanted to accept Fess' offer was a bitter blow. Norris was practically lone-handed. He had counted heavily on McCarl's loyalty and aid. But he interposed no objection, told McCarl to go ahead.

McCarl departed. Norris went back to Nebraska, made his lone fight and won. McCarl as secretary of the republican campaign committee was in a position to aid him. But he did not lift a finger.

The 1918 campaign marked the beginning of the return to power of the republican party. As a reward for his excellent services McCarl was made permanent secretary of the congressional campaign committee. He continued in this job until 1921, when Harding, on the recommendation of Fess, Watson and New—appointed him to the newly created post of comptroller general.

But despite the generally accepted report, Norris has been no friend of his since.

MOST OF LOCAL BANKS TO KEEP PRESENT INTEREST RATES

The majority of Santa Ana's banks will not be affected by the drop in interest rates for savings accounts announced yesterday by seven financial institutions in Los Angeles. A survey today showed that three of the four banks here anticipate no immediate change in their present rates of 2 1/2 per cent.

The maximum rates to be paid by the Los Angeles banking group starting July 1 will be 2 per cent per annum on six-months' term savings accounts, on balances up to $25,000. Above that figure the rate will be 1 1/2 per cent.

Banks participating in the Los Angeles change are the California, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Citizens National Trust and Savings, Farmers and Merchants National, Seaboard National, Union Bank and Trust company and the Security-First National. The change will affect all branches of the latter institution, which has a branch bank in Santa Ana.

The First National, The Bank of America and the Commercial National bank here will continue their 2 1/2 per cent schedule for the present, unless instructions are received from the Federal Reserve bank to make a change, bank officials said yesterday.

DOCTORS HERE FOR SESSION

Between 150 and 200 physicians from Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties were scheduled to gather at 4 p. m. today at the county hospital for a post graduate clinical conference. The affair is sponsored by the Orange County Medical association, with the assistance of the California Medical association.

The group was to hear expert discussions of practical problems in medicine and surgery during the afternoon and evening, and will meet for dinner in the hospital dining room at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Minnie Regon, Long Beach, state commander, will officiate at the auxiliary ceremonies. Van Leonard Brown, Costa Mesa, and Mrs. Pearl Lamb, Santa Ana, will succeed Jules W. Markel and Mrs. Mary Fisher, present leaders.

Reports of the state convention, concluded Saturday at Santa Monica, will be given, and officials anticipate a large attendance at this meeting.

The balance of the evening will be devoted to a social gathering when auxiliary members will serve refreshments.

As a result of uncertainty existing as to the actual set-up of the city planning commission, L. W. Blodgett, city attorney, last night submitted to the city council for first reading an ordinance which clarifies the situation.

Under the new ordinance, the planning commission would consist of six appointees, and three ex-officio members who shall be the mayor, the fire chief and the city engineer. The old ordinance providing for the commission was not clear as to who the three ex-officio members were to be.

Under the new ordinance, two of the appointees will serve for a term of one year, two for two years, one for one year, and one for four years. The terms are to expire on June 30, 1936, 1937, 1938 and 1939, respectively. The successors shall be appointed for terms of four years each, with vacancies being filled by appointment for the unexpired terms. The terms of ex-officio members will correspond to their terms of office, the ordinance provides.

GARDEN WEDDING UNITES YOUNG COUPLE

In a picturesque natural setting afforded by an altar of greenery against a weeping willow tree in the garden of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Spray, Holt avenue, Tustin, Sunday at 2 o'clock to a Mr. Harrison, son of Mrs. Mary Harrison of Cypress avenue. Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, First Christian minister, read the marriage service, in the presence of 60 friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty cross-barred white organdy frock, fitted, with little full sleeves. Her fingertip tulle veil fell from a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a large bouquet of white sweet peas and gardenias tied with a broad tulle bow.

Her sister, Mrs. Leonard E. Echols, the former June Spray, who was a bride of last October, attended her as matron of honor. She wore a pretty frock of aqua blue organdy and a pink picture hat, and carried an armful of pink sweet peas in graduated tints, tied with a pink tulle bow. Mrs. Spray wore rose crepe and gardenias, and Mrs. Harrison, black crepe and gardenias.

Robert Spray, the bride's brother, was best man.

Before the ceremony Miss Elisabeth Hurd played "Trees." During the service, she softly played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and also she played the traditional wedding choruses.

After the wedding a reception was given on the lawn. Ices and a tiered wedding cake cut by the bride were served.

The new Mrs. Harrison wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories, and a corsage of gardenias when she left with her husband on a motor trip through northern California. She gave her bridal bouquet to her matron of honor.

After June 10 the couple will be at home to friends at the Washington Court, 605 East Washington street.

Ingredients: 1 package strawberry jello (use slightly less water than the recipe requires), when thickened, beat. Add 1 pint strawberry ice cream. Beat well, then put in refrigerator and let thoroughly chill. Serve topped with chopped nuts and marshmallow cherries.

This makes a delicious summer dessert, Mrs. Gajski says.

This recipe has been a favorite for years at the Dawson home and Mrs. Dawson uses it almost steadily to fill a corner of her cookie jar.

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 egg, 1/2 cup sour milk, 1 tsp. soda, and salt and vanilla extract. Combine these with 4 1/2 cups flour, or more if necessary. Roll into a very thin dough, cut with cookie cutter, sprinkle with sugar and bake about 20 minutes in a medium oven.

Santa Anans To Leave Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Revill of North Ross street are completing their plans to leave Monday, June 17, on the Danish-Asiatic liner "Amerika" for a summer sojourn in England.

They plan to disembark at London July 13, and spend six weeks touring the English countryside, visiting Mr. Revill's sister, Mrs. E. H. Godfrey, at Dunmo, Essex, and seeing other relatives and friends.

They are to have a little car for their travels in England, and anticipate "doing" the country in a leisurely manner. From England they sail for Montreal, and in Toronto will visit a brother of Mr. Revill, Ray H. Revill, for a few days before returning to Santa Ana. They plan to be home by the second week in September.

COLLEGE FRIENDS TO BE SEEN BY NEWLYWED PAIR

When Raymond "Ray" Dawson's teaching duties at Tustin grammar school are concluded next week, for the year, he and his bride, last Wednesday evening, the former Miss Muriel Woodland of Los Angeles, will go north for a week's wedding trip in the course of which they will renew a number of his Stanford university campus friendships.

The wedding of Miss Woodland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Woodland of Los Angeles, and Mr. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dawson of 521 South Birch street, took place very quietly in the home of Rev. Harry Evan Owens, Baptist minister.

The bride is a Los Angeles born girl, and is a graduate of U. S. C. She has been doing sales work and modeling in the ready-to-wear department of the Broadway department store, Los Angeles.

Mr. Dawson's school career has been one of signal interest athletically ever since he was captain of a winning Santa Ana high school varsity football team in his senior year, 1925. He won his Stanford blanket in the course of getting his bachelor of arts degree on the Palo Alto campus. Later, he received his master's degree from U. S. C. He was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity on the Stanford campus.

During the Olympiad in Los Angeles, Mr. Dawson was one of the players called to be on the United States football team, and his was the enviable experience of living in "Olympic Village" throughout the time of the games.

After their week in the north, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson plan to return to Los Angeles to establish summer residence while Mr. Dawson takes special studies at U. S. C. They will return in September in time for him to resume his teaching activities in Tustin.

At the close of the unwrapping of her numerous shower gifts, the honoree told her friends of her wedding at the home of Rev. Owens. Mr. Dawson presented a camellia corsage to her new daughter-in-law. She gave other corsages to the bride's mother and sister, Mrs. J. B. Woodland and Mrs. Annabelle Hoyal of Los Angeles, and to Mrs. Clyde Higgins (Beryl Ludlow), whose third wedding anniversary it was.

Bride-to-Be Leaves For Oregon

Miss Clara Kate Owens, who is to be married Saturday in Corvallis, Ore., to George Edward Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Adams of San Francisco, formerly of Santa Ana, will leave early tomorrow with her mother, Mrs. I. J. Owens, and her sister, Miss Ruth Owens, of Owens drive, for Corvallis.

The Santa Anans will stop at Auburn, Calif., to meet Mr. Owens, who following the wedding will return to Santa Ana to spend the summer with his family.

Ever since the announcement of her coming wedding, Miss Owens has been complimented with a series of shower parties given by her many friends, the last being an intimate little beach "brunch" at which Misses Florence Brownridge and Marcia Huber were hostesses at Balboa.

She is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and Santa Ana Junior college, and of University of Washington, where she was an Alpha Phi, and where she took special library training. She has been on the staff of the Orange county library. She has also done splendid work in the Santa Ana Community Players and in the year just closing has served as chairman of Barn activities.

Mr. Adams is a graduate of the Santa Ana schools, including Junior college, and of Oregon State college. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. After a year of coaching under Bill Cook in Santa Ana Junior college, he studied at U. S. C. for his master's degree, and for the past year he has been coaching and teaching in Corvallis High school.

Miss Owens plans to wear a daffodil yellow with dusty rose accessories for her simple wedding, and afterward she and her husband will leave for Mount Hood to occupy a cabin belonging to the Dan Maloney family of Santa Ana for a week or two.

They will return to Santa Ana and make their home for the summer at 428 West Santa Clara.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS BETTY LACY

Complimenting Miss Betty Lacy on her 13th birthday anniversary, a radio dancing party was given Saturday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lacy of 705 Broadway.

Decorations followed a pink color scheme, and novelty favors were given the guests.

Chapter AB Hears Talk By Guest

Home life in France, contrasted with that in America, was the theme of a most interesting talk given by Mrs. Thomas Hall Glenn, guest speaker at the 1 o'clock luncheon meeting of Chapter AB of the P. E. O. Sisterhood yesterday in the home of Mrs. O. H. Egge, 1330 Bush street.

Mrs. Glenn, a native of France, contrasted the system of strict chaperonage in France with our freer system, described the formal engagement and marriage ceremonies of France, and the various phases of a woman's outlook on life in the two countries.

Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, chapter president, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Stephenson also gave a colorful report of her attendance at the state P. E. O. convention recently in Sacramento. She listed as convention highlights the announcement of a national membership of nearly 60,000 women and an endowment fund for college girls of nearly a million dollars, in addition to individual chapter funds, the banquet at which Governor Merriam spoke and the reception at the governor's mansion, the "gold" convention theme carried out in early California manner, and a pleasant ride down the Sacramento river.

Mrs. Ethel Dunning assisted with details of the luncheon, which was served at a table centered with a crystal bowl of rose godolias. Gladious in pastel tints were used throughout the home.

The next meeting of the chapter will be in the home of Mrs. Susan Rutherford at Balboa.

'BON VOYAGE' IS ALSO ANNOUNCEMENT FETE

A "bon voyage" open house at which Mrs. Rose Ann Fitzpatrick of Los Angeles, until recently of Santa Ana, entertained Sunday on the eve of her departure with her sons, Jim and Jack, for a three-months' trip to Ireland, served double duty when it was also the occasion for her announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, to G. Vernon Brumbaugh, Los Angeles attorney.

No date was announced for the wedding of the couple. Miss Fitzpatrick, very attractive with her dark hair and Irish eyes, is an accomplished violinist. Since her graduation from Santa Ana High school and Junior college, she has been in the advertising department of the Union Oil company offices in Los Angeles. Her sister, Mrs. Lillian Glaab, is a Santa Ana resident.

Mr. Brumbaugh is a graduate of Loyola law school.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick and her sons left Sunday evening on the Santa Fe for New York whence they will sail Friday on the Cunard liner, "Scythia" for Ireland. They will spend the summer visiting relatives, whom they will see for the first time in 10 years.

Fifty guests, including a number of Santa Anans, were present at the tea.

RIVIERA PARTY TO CLOSE SECTION YEAR

At 12 noon luncheon next Tuesday in the Riviera club at Long Beach will conclude the year's activities for the fifth household economics section of Santa Ana. Ebull club.

Those who will be unable to attend are being asked to notify Mrs. Dean Waynick, section leader, 3394, by Saturday. Miss Clara Richards, 3345-W, is in charge of transportation.

MRS. MAUDE GOFF WEDDED TO GIRLHOOD FRIEND

Mrs. Maude A. Goff, Santa Ana business woman, was quietly married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Presbyterian manse to Frank Wilsey, a girlhood friend in Indianapolis, Iowa. Rev. O. Scott McFarland read the marriage service.

Mrs. Goff wore a blue boucle suit and gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilsey are to be in Santa Ana for the present, and she will continue managing the cotton dress section of a Santa Ana shop. Mr. Wilsey has extensive ranch holdings in Saskatchewan.

Members of the Quill Pen club, of which Mrs. Wilsey is a member, gave an impromptu reception immediately after the wedding for the couple. Mrs. Wilsey's son, Harper Goff, graduate of the Santa Ana schools, is gaining recognition in art circles of the state.

In "The Flame Within," Miss Harding portrays the part of a woman psychiatrist who is able to solve the problems of others but who finds that it is more difficult to solve her own love problems. Herbert Marshall has the leading male role.

Want Ad Heiress

By ROB EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY:
 FRAN CAREY, stenographer, found an old-fashioned locket and from that unexciting circumstance has come love and disillusionment, exciting adventure and tragedy, rapture and bitter shame.

Though Fran did not know it, HARRIETT RALEIGH, eccentric wealthy old woman, had "lost" an old-fashioned locket where Fran found hers—and had provided in her will that whoever found the "lost" locket should inherit six million dollars at her death.

Fran's advertisement of the locket brings her to the attention of CHRISTOPHER ABBOTT, Miss Raleigh's lawyer, who falls in love with her, though Fran doesn't suspect it. It also brings her to the attention of ELLEN SPENCER, Miss Raleigh's housekeeper, Ellen's brother, JAY, and WARD QUENTIN. These three know of Miss Raleigh's will. They plan to get the six million dollars. Their plan to get it involves Ward's marrying Fran and then, when she had acquired the fortune, disposing of her in a fatal "accident."

Fran, who meets her, wins her love. Fran falls hopelessly in love, though Abbott has warned her against new acquaintances. Her wedding date is set, despite Fran's room mate, NINA MARKHAM, who dislikes Ward, and Miss Raleigh dies two days before the wedding. Abbott calls for Fran's locket and, after comparing it with earnings and brooch, tells her it is not the locket and that she will not inherit the six million dollars. Fran tells Ward and Ward leaves town with Laila, leaving Fran virtually at the altar. When the pecks that Abbott had tricked them all and that Fran's is really the Raleigh locket. But when he tries to re-establish himself with Fran she refuses to see him. No excuse he can make to her can erase from her mind the conviction that he had jilted her when he discovered her locket would not bring him a fortune.

Disappointed, Ward is cruel to Laila who hates Fran and holds her responsible for her own unhappiness. Insane with jealousy, she shoots Fran and kills herself. There is slight hope for Fran. Ward haunts the hospital through her avoidance Fran and Abbott. Nina finds in Fran's desk an unwitting will in which Fran makes Ward Quentin her sole heir.

RANCHO SANTA ANA

A GREAT TREAT is in store for Santa Ana people who journey to Rancho Santa Ana next Saturday to see the botanic gardens which Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant has given to the public. The idea of setting aside a Santa Ana day came from the Santa Ana chamber of commerce which has the gardens in mind as a major publicity project for Orange county.

Not until one has learned something of the significance of Mrs. Bryant's foundation does it offer such whole-hearted appeal. Then the full import of the undertaking unfolds and we wonder why we haven't been more excited about it before.

But let Terry Stephenson tell you about it, as he does in the following legend which appears in a recent circular descriptive of the garden:

"Within a delightful canyon of historic romance and achievement, an institution for the good of California has been founded. Looking forward into a field of usefulness and distinctive service, the project is dedicated to the memory of one of California's loved pioneers, John W. Bixby, by his daughter, a native of California.

"The name of the ranch takes the Californian of today far back into the history of the state, back beyond the days of the gold rush, back to the days of the missions and the padres, back, in fact, to the first visit of white men to what is now Orange county. On July 26, 1769, the mass of Santa Ana was celebrated by priests who journeyed with Portola on the famous expedition that led to the discovery of San Francisco Bay and the founding of Monterey.

"It was upon the day beneath the sycamores of Trabuco Canyon that the Spaniards first laid eyes upon the Santa Ana Valley. The incident of the celebration of the mass caused the name to be attached to the valley, later to the Santa Ana river and to ranchos along its banks. Thus, directly from the early day the name Rancho Santa Ana has been brought down to us.

"The first Spanish land grant on the river was made in 1809 to Don Jose Antonio Yorba and his nephew, Don Pablo Peralta, though it is certain that Don Pablo Grijalva, famed as a lieutenant who crossed the desert with Anza, had herds of cattle scattered over the area at an earlier date. Don Jose Antonio Yorba's cattle ran the hills far up into the Santa Ana Canyon.

"In the granting of lands after the secularization of the missions, Governor Jose Figueroa decreed to Don Bernardo Yorba, who was a son of Jose Antonio, the Rancho Canon de Santa Ana, comprising three leagues. That was in 1834. This grant was confirmed by the United States Land Commission in 1854, and was finally patented by the United States in 1866 as 13,328.53 acres. It is within the confines of this historic old rancho that the lands of the Botanic Garden are located.

"In its atmosphere and even in construction, the residence upon the property, the country house of the Bryant family, which will eventually become the Administration Building under the Garden Foundation, retains the spirit of the old rancho. Pictures of Don Bernardo's day come to mind along the road to the gardens. There are adobe ruins of an old church, of old homes, and close beside the road is located the spot where Don Bernardo's rancho headquarters were located. Here was the most extensive and the most elaborate of all the rancho adobes in California.

"It was from the Yorba heirs that John W. Bixby, who came to this state from Maine in 1873, bought the rancho in 1875, and to the holdings other purchases were added, the whole property being designated by him as 'Rancho Santa Ana,' and that name is retained to this day. Mr. Bixby was one of Southern California's foremost figures, active in many lines of endeavor, one of those pioneers who came to this state in early days with faith in its future. His death on May 6, 1887, at the age of 39, meant a distinct loss in the upbuilding of this new country.

"John Bixby came to love this state, its sunshine and its stars, its wide expanse of valleys and its mountain ranges, its trees, its shrubs and its flowers, and this same love of California and faith in its future surges strong in the veins of the second generation of the Bixby family in California; and it was with a desire to memorialize her father and at the same time to establish in the state an institution that would prove its worth in the decades to come that (Mrs.) Susanna Bixby Bryant determined upon a project that has already gone a long way toward realization, and all the way toward complete satisfaction in the knowledge of its ultimate success."

A CASUAL sight-seeing drive up and down the state at this time will emphasize in anybody's mind the fact that we have just passed through a most unusual winter. The hillside cover, of course, never looked so healthy as it does at present. Right now this is made noticeable on every hand by a most prolific display of yuccas. Their waxy white blooms are just coming on, and in numbers far exceeding any season in memory. On especially sheltered slopes where the yuccas are early, the blooms are of uncommon size and loveliness.

The long rainy season apparently blessed and invigorated every native grass, flower, shrub and tree, save one. The sycamores everywhere are suffering from a severe blight, caused, naturalists say, by the long period of cool, moist weather. For the most part, the trees carry a mere scattering of leaves on the topmost branches, with the lower limbs as bare as in winter time. This condition prevails both in Southern and Northern California.

While the green cover has flourished on the whole under the unusual conditions, so have many insects and smaller living pests. The peach orchards everywhere have suffered the worst visitation in decades, with the result that their foliage is gone or curled and the crop estimates cut to less than half of normal.

Another reminder that the 1934-35 winter was different from many past ones is furnished by the heavy volume of water pouring down the streams from the High Sierra. They are running bank full, and a fine sight it is for California eyes!

Elsie De Wolfe, with hair snow white and sixtyish, is a striking example of keeping young by activity. More than almost any person of her time she made America "interior decorating conscious." And developed an art now an essential of home building.

Miss De Wolfe, in private life Lady Mendel, divides her time between her estate in Versailles and her establishment in New York. She is always on the go—attending to her affairs, playing golf, horseback riding and rarely missing a luncheon, cocktail or dinner engagement.

She is rightly a Cinderella to ugly ducklings of the world. For she was one herself but around the age of 18, by much experimentation with make-up discovered she did not have to remain so. She began to study clothes, too. And, a poor girl, so triumphed socially she was presented to court.

Later she became an actress and then branched out as an international hostess. Even today eyes turn to follow her wherever she goes. She has no patience with women who at 50 turn to the rocker. Her greatest successes have come after 50. O. yes, she stands on her head each morning for five minutes.

With the acclaim accorded his most recent picture with Ruby Keeler, Al Jolson has scored three distinct come-backs in his professional career. Not that he had far to come, but there were slight dips on the stage, screen and radio. But he would not stay dipped and bobbed up in each instance stronger than ever. In scaling a new peak, one wonders if Jolson would not be wise in quitting at the top. He has given the world too much to be forgotten, is rich and happily married and in excellent health to enjoy a deserved leisure he has never known.

On one of the late Kin Hubbard's visits to New York he brought along a one-galloned Hoosier who had never ventured far from the hitching post in front of the general store. The pair stopped at a hotel on a busy cross street and at 2 a. m. Hubbard saw his friend in an old fashioned night shirt gazing out the window. Kin turned on the light and his friend pointing to the street's busy turmoil shook his head and opined: "Way behind with their haulin'!"

Big flashy dance orchestras have their stars who are little known only to the sophisticated jazz. There is, for instance, Jack Teagarden, the hot-lipped cornetist, and also the equally famed Hoagie Carmichael. The salaries of such virtuosi are much larger than stars of the biggest symphony orchestras. They are exponents of the more sensual jazz, the less orgiastic is known as "sweet." Thus are chronicled in the job wanted sections of Variety and The Billboard musicians who claim they play "both sweet and hot."

Dogs are like nations. They muddle along contentedly for long stretches and suddenly are at each other's throat. The two Bostonians, Ben Ali Haggins' Nimble and Billy, have been as thick and sugary as molasses for months. This afternoon they awakened from near-by naps simultaneously and in a flash became an indignant flurry of fur. It was no easy task to separate them and they continued to whine for another chance for half an hour. Just now, several hours later, they went out for an airing, nuzzling each other with the easy familiarity of an ancient friendship. One thing about dogs—they may lose their temper but they never pout. And a lady glancing over my shoulder sniffs: "Or slam doors."

Add memories: The blonde sourette with Diamond Jack's Medicine Show. The town sissy who carried an umbrella in the sun. The crone who lived over the ice house and traded nickel novels. The traveling opticians from New York with the silk hat. The first "cigarette fiend." The $150 a week hired girl who took in washing, too. The tough kid across the track who lost his leg flipping freights. The sour will barrel with the hog lot. Glass jars on the picket fence. The colt tied to a buggy shaft. The printer who went on a periodical spree. (Copyright, 1935, McNaught Syndicate)

Talks to Parents

By Brooke Peters Church

Possibly the Victorian age laid too much emphasis on convention per se. Certainly they tended to confuse end and means and make the rules of society of prime importance. But it is possible to go too far in the other direction, and by throwing off all conventions once more reduce life to a state of social chaos.

Conventions are not an object but a means to an end. There is, as a rule, nothing intrinsically good or bad in them, though they may be of help in protecting society from evil results.

Not Adequate Reason To tell a child that it must not do this because "it is not done," or something else because, "the neighbors would not understand," or it "would shock some one," is not an adequate reason for good behavior. There are times when girls and boys like to shock and want to defy the world, often with disastrous and far-reaching results.

Outdoor Precautions: II

Those who indulge extensively in outdoor living should have a basic knowledge of first-aid and should carry a first-aid kit.

In general, the simpler the kit, the better all around. Iodine, adhesive tape, sterile cotton, bandage, a tourniquet, and possibly tannic acid for treatment of burns, are the essential elements. A small manual on first-aid, such as is issued by the American Red Cross or the Society for Instruction in First Aid to the Injured, might be included in one's equipment for the hike or any outdoor activity.

In this connection one should remember that first-aid really means first-aid and not treatment, and that one should do no more than is absolutely required by the emergency, leaving further treatment to more expert hands. Mediocre first-aid is worse than none.

One type of emergency in which unskilled dealing is liable to do irreparable damage is fracture of a bone. When such an emergency arises, unless one is skilled in making a temporary splint so as to fix the parts of the broken bone, thus keeping them from injuring the soft tissues, it is wiser to leave the injured individual to rest wherever possible and to call for expert help. If a broken bone is crudely handled, the fracture is aggravated and the jagged ends of the bone are liable to injure the surrounding blood vessels and nerves seriously.

A fairly common accident of outdoor life is burn. Here, too, skillful first-aid is of value. In the case of a minor burn, that is, one not involving much skin, gentle cleansing of the wound and the application of a 3 to 5 per cent solution of tannic acid is usually gratifying and effective.

In more serious burns the sufferer should at once be brought to the nearest hospital or other place where effective treatment may be administered. Delay in the proper treatment of severe burns may cost the sufferer his life.

HENRY FORD'S POLICY

(Coastline Dispatch)

It does not take a code or a high tariff or an anti-trust law to make Henry Ford be decent to his workmen. He has just re-established a minimum wage of six dollars per day among his 125,000 employees. A reliable authority says Ford has paid workers $623,000,000 above the general wage scale in the past twenty years. And everybody is glad that he has culled out a few hundred millions for himself while doing it.

WARM IN DEATH VALLEY

(Redlands Facts)

Although the season at Death Valley officially closed May 1, Furnace Creek Ranch and Cottage Camp will be open until July 1, with supplies of food, gas and oil, and garage service until that time. The Facts is informed by the National Automobile Club. Many motorists are still coming in, according to Engineer T. R. Goodwin, in charge of Death Valley National Monument. After July 1 there will be neither accommodations nor automobile supplies at any point in the valley other than at Death Valley Junction. Because of the intense heat of summer, all motorists are discouraged from making the trip during summer.

VACATIONS FOR ALL

(Garden Grove News)

Vacation is near for hundreds of school children, college students, and teachers. After a strenuous session of work a little period of rest and recuperation is deserved and appreciated by all. It's a pity that everywhere in life's work vacations couldn't be arranged, most of them like the teacher's with twelve months pay. Many men and women grind from start to finish of an earthly career and only stop at the final heart-beat.

Sooner or later in the process of the world more leisure will be available for the working men and women in every sphere of life. What will be done with the spare time? Are we teaching ourselves to enjoy leisure in a healthful and helpful way?

In the meantime, here's luck and good enjoyment to those fortunate enough to have a period of relaxation and recuperation. May the summer vacation be enjoyed and may the next year's work be better than ever before.

YE DAIRY

By gas buggy with the family, over to Huntington Beach, and do have a frye soon built in the fireplace of the little beach cabin, and Dame Juice doth prepare a luncheon of golden-brown hotcakes, and anon, might peacefully and contentedly, I do lie down in the hammock on the front porch and to slumbering all the afternoon. And when I do awake, we do debate what we shall call the little cabin, and I do suggest "Kee-Way-Din," which do be the Indian name for North wind, but Dame Juice doth say, "No, we shall call it after you, and name it Shaw-Wan-Dosse, which doth mean Fat and Lazy," and I do laugh heartily, albeit the laugh doth stick in my gullet, for Lord! there be much of truth in the prettiness creature's jest.

PARTY FOOD

By Mary Graham Bonner

"We should have some salad," quacked Mrs. Quacko Duck. "I think pond lily salad would be delicious." So she set to work, helped by several other ducks, preparing a fine mixture of seeds and chopped up leaves and on top of the salad, and edging it, were pond lilies.

"That looks like a real party, quack-quack," she said delightedly. "Now I'll have some dainty root sandwiches and then I'll make my famous pond lily-monade."

"We're having real party food, quack-quack," quacked the ducklings.

"Now waddle along," quacked Mrs. Quacko, "and don't get in my way while I'm so busy."

The ducklings waddled up the bank and watched.

"Oh, may I have a sandwich, quack-quack?" quacked little Quackles.

"Not now," quacked Mrs. Quacko. "If you're a good little duckling and don't bother me I'll give you some later on."

"Are we going to be allowed to come to the party?" quacked little Quacko.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," quacked Mrs. Quacko. "You may all come and help pass around the food and you'll be allowed plenty to eat, too. It has never been said, and it shall never be said, that Mrs. Quacko didn't have plenty to eat at her parties."

Now the food was all ready and Mrs. Quacko was in a great flurry. "They'll be here any moment now and I'm not ready. Dear duck me, will I be ready on time?"

Quack! Hand me that twig so I can brush my feathers! Dear duck me, will I be ready on time?" Mrs. Quacko was all of a duck flutter.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Boy, it was a blue Monday. It may have been just another wash day for mother, but it was almost a wash-out for father. I collided with enough information, but almost every story had a string to it—some of 'em rope. Society event was in the hush because the host had left a few off the invitation list. Little story in confidential escrow until all the creditors were cared for. Golf game with accessories, and a few confidences. The day took on the aspect of a confessional. It's all right to tell me, but in an unguarded moment should I break the pledge you would be sorry. And so would I.

Anonymous tip comes in that a certain Prudential agent is to be appointed honorary member of the SAFF. This is not another governmental agency, although it partakes of the alphabetical designation. The assertion is made that our Prudential friend arrives at all fires the same time Chief Luxembourg gets there. And if it's a grass fire he leads the chief by a few blades.

Too many stops. What effect will the NRA have? They ask me. They are still asking me. All I know is what the supreme court put in the newspapers. They said it did not fit in with our constitution. So the suggestion has been made that we get another constitution, or add one. The idea was that the government couldn't run business. Gosh, that was decided long ago. Now for example let us take a look at the postoffice deficits. From another angle it looks to me like the supreme court has said to business let's see how you can get along without the NRA, and if big business can get along without it the old constitution has been validated.

Brief Sunday morning conference with Hugo Lamb. Going good as a duet, then along comes Bill Maag who wants to make it a trio. All of us more or less citric farmers, so it's agreeable to add one more vocalist, but when George Kryhl drives up in a spick and span roadster we all say how can we use him? The argument was still in progress when George decided he didn't want to sing anyway, and two of the other boys wanted to go to church, which busted up the quartet. The service station dealer where the argument occurred appeared relieved that the vocal audition did not take place on his lot.

Confidential report on fishing experience of a certain Santa Ana professional man. By the way, he did not complete in the Montgomery Ward contest. Deponent affirms the length and size of the fish was enough to break the hook. Angered over his hard luck he waded right out into the middle of the stream and issued a challenge for a personal encounter. The attorney discovered that he had a slippery antagonist. He demurred, denounced, defamed and blasphemed, and finally retired dejected and defeated. The exact size of that fish will always remain a mystery.

Out on Grand avenue where C. M. McCain has a ranch the highway is filled with gas men, electric men, plumbers, cement mixers, steam shovels, and road making equipment. After a long and bitter controversy another highway is being constructed. Now that it is under construction I hear that some of those who wanted the Grand boulevard do not want it now, and those who opposed are in favor of it. What a contrary race we are. Why wouldn't it have been a good idea to put donkeys on that job?

In order to absorb all of the unemployment in the United States why wouldn't it be a good idea to patrol every intersection which has a boulevard stop? Now there's a chance to do some real educational work. We appear to have a large percentage of the population either unfamiliar with or unconscious of the safety signs which are intended to acquaint the driver with highway regulations. I now have several friends in hospitals who would otherwise be operating under their own power if the other fellow had respected the traffic laws. Accidents are becoming so frequent that intersection patrolling might help, but if they paid no more attention to the patrolman than they do the signs, I am not an applicant.

This is as far as I go.
